HOMEcoming CELEBRATION IS SUCCESS

Delta Sigs Win House Decoration;
Alpha Chis Take First
In Parade

Homecoming, from the viewpoint of students and alumni, was an unusual success, even though one husky Carrollite did throw an exceptionally disastrous pass during the festivities at Whiting field Saturday afternoon, and regardless of the premature lighting of the bonfire, bringing to naught the efforts of an afternoon of toil.

The largest crowd in the history of the school, nearly 400 couples, attended the annual Homecoming dance held at the Alexander gymnasium Saturday evening. Indirect lighting, featuring a crystal ball and colored flood lights at the windows, provided the decorations, while the large crowd danced to the music of Louis Panico and his orchestra.

Delta Sigs Win

Competition in the fraternity house and dormitory decorations contest and the float contest was keen. Delta Sigma Tau, showing a returning grad "tipping the scales in favor of Lawrence," copped the house decoration contest for the fifth consecutive year, and will retain the trophy as their permanent possession.

The cup was awarded for the first time three years ago by Appleton merchants, under the stipulation that the organization winning it three times should retain it permanently.

Second prize in this contest was awarded to Beta Sigma Phi, who with a huge steamship urged loyal Lawrentians to "take Carroll in tow." The cup awarded as this prize was also a gift of Appleton merchants. Delta Iota, with a "Viking prison," was awarded honorable mention.

Choose Members For Pep Band

Twenty-seven Are Included In Personnel Announced
By Directors

The personnel of the Lawrence college Pep band was announced by Richard Fuller and James Watkins, both '34, and co-directors of the band, yesterday.

It is hoped that the band will accompany the football team to Ripon Saturday for the latter's homecoming. Members of the band and the instruments played by them follow:

Cornets: Richard Fuller, William Montgomery, Oscar Pruseow, Lawrence Walstrom, and Paul Hesselgrave. Clarinets: Weston Jones, David Bayer, and Lester Loerlake.

Alto: Kurt Regling, Joseph Kexel, Norbert Franz, and Otto Hauelson. Basses: Myles MacMillan, Lawrence Steidl, Arthur Blahnik, and Robert Ruedebusch.

Trombones: James Watkins, Gerald Brown, Gerald Franz, Edward Reinick, and Karl Mess. Baritone: Chester Roberts and Wayne Williams. Drums: Walter Peterson, Sam Smith, Milton Spores, and Julian Kumin.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of all persons now working on the Lawrence, tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the Lawrence office. All those desirous of trying out for the Lawrence who have not already done so may signify their intention at that time. The attendance of everyone is requested.

L. W. A. Itemizes Expenditures of Dues It Receives

On account of a misunderstanding in regard to the function of the three dollar L. W. A. dues, the Lawrence Women's association has itemized the expenditures for the year. Money is allowed to the Town Girls' association or the dormitories in relation to the number of women paying dues.

The three dollars are divided between the Town Girls' association, the dormitories, and council. If any of the three benefiting factions should fail to pay all their dues, they will lose the corresponding part of the dollar in return.

The third of the money given to the Town Girls' association is used for bi-monthly luncheons, social events, and the float. If a large number of town girls fail to pay their dues, their appropriation may fall so low that it is necessary for them to pay for certain functions individually.

Money to Council

With the money appropriated to the dormitories — magazines, parties, the float, house decorations, and recreation room furnishings are financed.

The council receives money for the upkeep of Hamar house, teas for the freshmen and the dean of women, vespers services, social service, five religious services, banquet for honor students, May day, and the Colonial banquet.

As can be perceived, the money appropriated to the council benefits both town girls and dormitory girls, while the money received by either of the latter groups is not beneficial to the other.

Maesch Will Give Series Of Three Talks Over Radio

LaVahn Maesch, assistant professor of theory and organ, will give three radio talks over station WHBY beginning Oct. 31, which follow the discussions presented by Miss Helen Mueller, associate professor of singing and music history, the last of which was given yesterday in which she discussed the German composers Hugo, Wolfe, and Strauss.

Miss Mueller's first speech, given Oct. 10, concerned Schubert and his works entirely. In the second of her talks on Oct. 17, she spoke on "Grieg, Franz, and Brahms." Miss Gladys Ives Brainard, professor of piano, is scheduled to follow Mr. Maesch on the radio broadcast.

Wilbur Hanson Exhibits Puppets To Sunset Club

A puppet vaudeville show given by Wilbur Hanson of Appleton was featured at the meeting of the Sunset club Thursday night in the Little Theatre. One hundred persons from dramatic classes and Heelers' club attended.

In commenting upon the performance, F. Theodore Cloak, assistant professor of public speaking and dramatics, said that the puppets, which were made by Mr. Hanson, showed good construction, clever costuming, and careful modelling of heads and features. Mr. Hanson built his own stage and arranged his own lighting effects.

Two Lawrence Librarians Go To Waukesha Meeting

Miss Anna Tarr, librarian, and Miss Dorothy Fenton, reference librarian, attended a meeting of the Association of American University Women held at Waukesha Saturday.

Watkins Speaks on Theatre Productions in New York

Charles Watkins, '33, gave a speech to the residents of Peabody Wednesday evening. Watkins discussed present theatre productions in New York.

CARROLL EKES OUT 6-0 WIN OVER VIKINGS

Orangemen Score in Last Quarter;
Vikes Come Within Three Yards of Tallying

After an 80 yard march down the field in the last six minutes of play, homecoming Lawrentians saw an outplayed Carroll team hold Percy Clapp's Vikings for two downs on the three yard line and then take possession of the ball when Walters' pass sailed into the end-zone. Carroll was completely outplayed, but two complete passes followed by a pair of line bucks early in the final period of the game gave them one touchdown and another Big-Four victory.

Carroll's score came as a result of two complete passes, Kennedy to Rothman and Jansen to Dillingofski, which placed the ball on the 11 yard line of Lawrence; Jansen and Kennedy hit the line but the Lawrence front wall held. Rothman in the remaining two downs made it a first down and less than a yard to go, Carroll became unstoppable. Following the touchdown, Thiel's kick went wide, and Carroll kicked off to Lawrence with the score 6 to 0 in favor of the orange and white.

To Three Yard Line

Lawrence was not to be outdone, and Walters returned the kick-off to mid-field. A pass, Walters to Grogan, gained 22 yards; Walters plunged and passed to bring the ball to the Carroll 32 yard line. Another pass, Walters to Vogel, gave the Vikings a first down on the 19 yard line. Walters hit the line for 11 yards more and Carroll was promptly penalized five yards to place the ball on the three yard line. A line smash and a right end run failed to gain. Resorting to an aerial play, Walters sailed a pass over Ashman into the end-zone, and Carroll was prompt in kicking out to mid-field, Lawrence (Continued on page 4)

High School Students Manage To Crash Into Observer's Column

By the Observer

Oh, for heaven's sake! Twenty-four kids of junior high school age had a great time at the Lawrence college frolic; 200 of 'em tried to spoil a Lawrence college mass meeting at the chapel; 10 of them ignited the bonfire that the freshmen built and failed to guard. Aside from that, the pre-game pepping was quite a success. Every year the high school element has been getting larger and more of a nuisance, but nothing is ever done about it, so we suppose it'll have to be Oke. Enough of that.

One fraternity tried giving a serenade Friday night, but the static of Berzinsky's horn sort of spoiled things in front of Peabody. Good old Breezy probably didn't mean any harm.

After the organized music fest, another outfit gave an impromptu one, in which "Sweet Adeline" featured as the vocal effort. More darn fun!

No Meaning

Some folks couldn't understand the observing of the Observer which concerned itself with "No Smoking" signs in North Dakota; don't try to understand it, it wasn't even funny.

The pep parade on Friday night was quite an event, as a couple of ripped doors at the Fox theater will testify. The good maneuver of the evening was pulled when the high school lads were decoyed over to the little gym to get the torches before the collegians were supposed to get them; the advantages of a college education here manifested themselves, because the torches were given out back of the chapel.

Following the parade, the raids on the theaters, and such non-essentials, the real business of preparing for Saturday was begun at various vantage

Gives Final Broadcast On Evolution Tomorrow

"The Relation Between Evolution and Progress" will be the title of the third and last lecture in the series on "The Present Status of the Doctrine of Evolution" to be presented over station WHBY by Dr. R. C. Mullenix, professor of zoology, tomorrow at 1:30 p.m.

In this last lecture Dr. Mullenix will attempt to answer the question "What Is Progress." A radio has been installed in Science hall each week for the reception of Dr. Mullenix's lectures.

Tentative Debates Scheduled For Women's Team

Rosemary Wiley, '35, women's debate manager, announces that letters have been sent to five colleges in the south and west to arrange a schedule for two short debate trips.

The letters have been sent to Carleton college, Northfield, Minn.; St. Olaf's college, Northfield, Minn.; Hamline university, St. Paul, Minn.; Rockford college, Rockford, Ill.; and North Central college, Naperville, Ill.

Tryouts for women's debate will be held sometime during the latter part of November. The question for this year reads: "Resolved, that the house should support the league for independent political action in its move to organize a political party."

Dr. Bagg To Read Paper At Tourmaline Meeting

Tourmaline club will hold a meeting Tuesday in Science hall at 7:00 p.m. Dr. R. M. Bagg, professor of geology and mineralogy, will give his paper on "The Role of Underground Water in Human Affairs."

This was the address that was given recently before members of the Wisconsin Waterworks convention. A copy of the lecture has been sent to Madison where it will be published in the American Waterworks Association bulletin.

Salzedo's Entire Life Has Been in Musical Work

Carlos Salzedo, founder and director of the Salzedo Harp Ensemble which will appear here on Oct. 31 at the Lawrence Memorial chapel, was born in 1885 in France of musical parents.

At the age of seven the child entered the Bordeaux Conservatoire and two years later won first prize in both solfège and piano. When he was but 16 he won first prize for harp and first prize for piano at the Conservatoire Nationale in Paris.

During the years that followed, he toured Europe in a dual capacity, appearing both as pianist and harpist. In 1909 he was engaged by Gatti-Casazza to go to America as solo harpist with the Metropolitan opera.

He stayed there four years, then resigned to devote himself to solo work. Since then he has become a famous exponent of his chosen instrument. Leopold Stokowski, conductor of the Philadelphia orchestra, hails him as "at once virtuoso, artist composer, and developer of the latent possibilities of the harp."

What differentiates Salzedo from any other artist and gives him world supremacy as a harpist is his profound musical knowledge. There has never been, nor is there today, another harpist capable of understanding and interpreting as does Salzedo the masters of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, the romanticists of the nineteenth century and the modernists of our day.

As a harpist, Salzedo's artistry and virtuosity have never been equalled by anyone in any period of history. As a composer, Salzedo ranks among the most significant of our time. His symphonic works have been played by leading organizations such as the Boston symphony and the Chicago orchestra.

What Chopin did for the piano as a composer Salzedo—himself a superb pianist—is doing for the harp; what Paderewski is to the piano as a virtuoso, Salzedo is to the harp.

Among his colleagues, Salzedo is ranked the foremost harpist today and his Ensemble as a unique and extraordinary organization.

LAWRENCE TO MEET RIPPON THIS WEEKEND

Clapp Works To Develop Team's Offensive Strength Before
Next Encounter

By Sam Smith

Cheered when his Viking gridders showed that they could be scored upon and still come back fighting to win, Coach Percy Clapp started football practice this week by working for an improved Lawrence offense to use in the game with Ripon at the Redmen's camp Saturday.

While Lawrence showed flashes of defensive strength throughout the Carroll game, yet the offense was not all that could be desired. On four separate occasions the Vikes carried the ball deep into the Pioneer territory, only to lose the ball because the necessary punch and drive to put the ball over for a touchdown wasn't there.

With the exception of Gordon Faber, halfback, and George Walters, fullback, the squad recovered from the homecoming game with only a few minor bruises and cuts. Faber received a badly cut nose which was believed to have been punctured at first, and has a sore leg which may develop into a severe charley horse.

Will Play

Walters has been troubled with an infected knee for sometime and last Saturday's game aggravated the injury. Both players hope to be in shape this weekend, however, so they can make the Ripon homecoming a Lawrence success. By winning their two remaining games with Beloit and Ripon, and with Ripon's help by beating Carroll in the Pioneers' last conference game, Lawrence can still tie for the Big Four Conference football championship.

Coach Clapp will probably use the same lineup against the Redmen that appeared against Carroll. Ed Roeder and John Vogel, the Viking flankmen who played the entire game against the Pioneers (Continued on page 3)

Library Rules Are Announced

Miss Tarr Issues Explanation Of The Methods Used In Library

General library rules, to be published in booklet form, will be distributed to each Lawrence college student, according to Miss Anna Tarr, librarian.

Library hours for the year are from 7:45 a.m. to 5:45 p.m. and from 6:45 p.m. to 10 p.m. from Mondays to Fridays, and from 7:45 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Saturdays. Exceptions are all holidays, in which case a notice will be posted. The library rules follow:

Loan and Reading Rooms

The loan desk, where books may be borrowed and returned, faces the entrance door as one enters the reading rooms. Books, current periodicals, and newspapers are shelved in the room to the right of the loan desk. Some of the bound periodicals are shelved in the room to the left of the loan desk. The pictures from the picture rental collection are on display above the book cases in the same room. These rental pictures are also on display along the stairway leading up to the office. The pictures rent for 50 cents a semester. Any one desirous (Continued on page 4)

Students may obtain artist series tickets at the office of Robert Beggs, student secretary, on the second floor of the library building Wednesday and Thursday afternoons from 1:30 to 5:00 p.m. Each student must bring his All College club ticket with him. Groups wishing to secure their tickets in blocks may do so.

MERE DECORATIONS

Homecoming with all its glamor and excitement is over. As we view the events of the weekend, the whole hearted co-operation of the student body in all the events is evident. Certainly all those who returned were not disappointed in the reception that they received.

Yet as we look back, are there not some things that seem rather useless as aids to the basic values of Homecoming? It has been a custom on this campus to decorate all fraternity houses and dormitories for the Homecoming celebration. Some of the decorations are works of art, others are not worth one-half of the time put on them. Even those that are worthwhile probably do not receive attention commensurate with their real value.

The question, then, is this: Are Homecoming decorations worth while? We fail to see their value. Alumni can be welcomed just as effectively, shown just as good a time, enjoy themselves just as thoroughly without the assistance of a highly decorated house front. After all, those who return are not interested primarily in viewing an assortment of varied color paper. They want to be entertained, to meet their old friends, to look over the campus.

On the students' side of the picture, there are classes missed and sleep lost. All the organizations are in an uproar as everyone tries to help remodel the outward semblances of what is supposed to be the residence of a group of students. If the time which is spent in decorating houses were put forth in a sincere effort to make Homecoming a real event, not merely a decorative one, the benefit derived on all sides would be greater.

If we consider time spent, money expended (almost fifteen dollars for each group), value to the alums, student body, and faculty, and purpose served, we are unable to see wherein the Homecoming decorations are worthwhile. The returns are relatively too small.

Why should not a proposal to abolish decorations be given serious consideration?

JUST MUSIC

All those who were present at the Homecoming dance Saturday night must agree that it was one of the finest dances that have been given in a long time. The music was splendid, the lighting effects were clever. Louis Panico did his share in making the evening a success. Yet we wonder whether it is wise to spend $225 for an orchestra in depression times.

According to information received from the Homecoming chairman, about 340 couples paid $425 to attend the dance. After all expenses have been deducted, there remains a profit of about $25. A year ago approximately 350 couples attended the dance and a profit of about $175 was realized. The admission was the same as this year. Two years ago about 300 couples paid $450 to attend the dance. A profit of $269 was made. Obviously then, the orchestras for the last two years were considerably cheaper than the one this year and yet attendance was about the same.

The Homecoming committees, so long as they did not want to make money, had these alternatives: Either hire an expensive orchestra and keep the price of admission the same as last year, or hire a cheaper orchestra and lower the price of tickets. There is a shadow of a doubt as to whether the committee made a wise choice.

During Homecoming almost everyone enters into all the festivities. It is one time when everyone has a real desire to attend an All College dance. The large attendance of the last three Homecoming dances is proof of this statement. Therefore it appears that no special attractions have to be offered in order to draw a crowd.

In hiring Panico, it was necessary to keep the admission price up. Consequently an injustice was wrought on those who were forced to stay home and on the great majority who made some sacrifice in order to attend the dance.

It is doubtful whether most people present at the dance were able to realize, after a few numbers had been played, the difference between Panico's music and that of ordinary bands that have been appearing here. Even if we grant that a few could differentiate, we wonder if the difference in music made the evening any more enjoyable. Why, then, pay $225 for music?

The situation is this: a cheaper orchestra might have been hired with the assurance that attendance would not have dropped off to any degree; expenses would have been thereby cut tremendously; and a reduction made in the price of tickets. To have reduced the price would have enabled more to attend who were financially unable to do so. At the same time those who were at the dance would have realized quite a savings.

In days of depression we should economize as much as possible. In view of past circumstances and present actions, we fail to see the real value of having an orchestra as expensive as Panico's.

SO THEY SAY

Dear Sir:

Many thanks for the publicity which you have given the campus forum. The last editorial was particularly effective. Such powers of invective, such talent for distortion! May I present my compliments?

It seems that a slight misunderstanding exists concerning a previous editorial. My humble protest in chapel against the attitude taken by the editorial writer seems to have touched a sensitive, perhaps oft-rubbed spot. For that I am sorry, for I am a sensitive man myself, and would not care to offend.

To err is human, to forgive—may I depart from the original—humane. In spite of the editorial inaccuracy which was heaped on top of a misquotation, we who have the interests of the forum at heart are glad to forgive. To those who are puzzled by the polemic, allow me to state that the subject discussed at that time was "The Record of the Present National Administration."

This threatens to degenerate into a feud with a scramble for the honor of having the last word. The facts of the case are rather obvious, and further dispute would only serve to damage both the forum and the Lawrentian. I hope the editorial writer will pardon me if I say that I will maintain my attitude and criticism, and I shall not begrudge the writer his.

Sincerely,
ROLAND BEYER.

Oil Painting Loaned To College Now On Display

An oil painting, loaned to the college by Mrs. John N. Bergstrom of Neenah, is now on exhibit in the art alcove of the Lawrence college library. The title of the picture is "In the Trade Winds, South Pacific," and was painted by William Ritschel in 1927.

Coach Clapp warned the players before the game that Carroll might try some passes down the sidelines which, if not closely watched, might prove disastrous for the Vikes. True to predictions, a throw from Rothmann to Dillingofski carried the ball down to the Lawrence nine yard line where Rothmann scored on the final of five line smashes, the extra chance coming after both teams were offside.

The game almost ended with a movie finish when a desperate Viking eleven carried the ball from their own 35 yard line down the field to the Pioneer's five yard stripe with four plays for a touchdown. An uncertainty as to the time remaining caused that pass into the end zone to be thrown before the team was set for the play. The game ended with Carroll in possession of the ball three plays later.

Here's hoping that the yearling gridders will note and be thoroughly impressed by the way Jordan college ran over the Stevens Point Teachers reserves 61 to 0 Saturday. The new college's second stringers played a great share of the game, but still Jordan rolled up over a point a minute.

One look at the team picture should convince the freshmen that Jordan will be every bit as tough as St. Johns was. Just as a bit of consolation for the frosh we'll mention that the Cadets beat Ripon's first year team 39 to 0 at Delafield Saturday.

Our cross country team continued to maintain its undefeated record in state running circles. The harriers clearly showed their superiority over the Pioneers when three Vikes trotted in with a triple tie for first place.

Remember Homecoming last fall when that Ripon cornetist played the Funeral March during the game? And how the frosh rushed across the field between halves to get the cornet and were nearly successful until they were shoed away by the police department and our college President? With the game at the Redmen's stronghold this year there isn't much chance to get the coveted instrument, but there's always another year.

HARRIERS ARE VICTORS OVER CARROLL, 15-6

Three Lawrentian Runners Tie For First Place in Meet

Coach A. C. Denney's long-distance stars successfully launched the Viking ship on its sixth consecutive undefeated year in state cross-country circles when they defeated Carroll college at George A. Whiting field Saturday afternoon, by a 15-6 score. The meet finished between the halves of the homecoming football tilt.

Phil Bradley, Oscar Gram, and Shigeto Tsuru of Lawrence were tied for first place in 19 minutes and 37 seconds, with Burt Kellogg in second place. Apfin and Brown of Carroll finished in fifth and sixth places.

The victory may prove to be a very expensive one for the Lawrence harriers, because in tying for first place, Tsuru, Japanese distance star, strained his weak ankle and may be a loss to the team for some time.

Continue Practice

Although the Vike mentor's proteges experienced very little difficulty in outclassing Vince Batha's thin-clads, it is not probable that this week will see any let up during the practice sessions. Coach Denney will undoubtedly train his men in hill climbing this week, because there are several difficult hills on the course that will be used at the Midwest conference meet.

The Lawrence harriers have an open date this weekend. Nov. 5 they compete in the Midwest meet at Beloit, and Nov. 12 Beloit will provide competition for the Vikes here in their final meet of the season. This meet will be run in such a manner that the spectators at the Albion-Lawrence football game can see the finish.

The summary of the Lawrence-Carroll meet:

1. Bradley (L) Gram (L) Tsuru (L) tie
4. Kellogg (L)
5. Apfin (C)
6. Brown (C)
7. Polkinghorn (L)
8. Ziegler (L)

neers, will be the starting ends with Hessler and Rosebush looming up as the best of the reserve.

Good Reserve

Ted Kramer and Paul McKahan or Milton Kuehler will start at the tackle posts. For the guard positions Coach Clapp has four good men available and any two of Gordon Simonds, Cliff Collins, Henry Nagle, and Red Schmidt may be the starters.

Bernie Fahres, the reformed backfield man, is another possibility in the line or he may be shifted to the backfield for the Ripon encounter. Pfefferle, Vedder, and Nagle are fighting for the center job with Pfefferle as the leading candidate.

The starting backfield is pretty much of a toss-up considering the injuries to Walters and Faber. If these two recover in time, they, along with Captain "Sniley" Fiend, Gebhardt, Baldwin, Hartwig, Ashman, and Grogan should see service as backs.

Ripon has been boasting 12 lettermen which, coupled with a wealth of reserve and sophomore material, was expected to go forward to another Big Four football championship this year. However, in four games to date, the Redmen have been unable to score a point. Ripon lost their season's opener to St. Thomas, 7 to 0. Then, on subsequent Saturdays, Ripon played a scoreless tie with James Millikin; lost to De Paul 18 to 0; and tied Beloit 0 to 0 last week.

Tony Grecco, former Lawrence frosh star, is paying regular center for the Redmen and is expected to cause plenty of trouble for the Viking forward wall.

Betas Forfeit Tennis Match

Managers Rule That Change in Team Personnel Is Illegal

According to a decision rendered by Coach A. C. Denney and the Intramural managers, Slatengren and Farwell, the Beta Sigma Phi tennis team forfeited their match to the Phi Kappa Tau team in the fraternity meet because of a violation of rule two in the intramural sports code.

This rule states that after an organization has once entered a team into competition, the personnel of this team cannot be changed. Contrary to this rule, the Betas played a different team against the Phi Taus than had played in their previous match, thus forfeiting the match.

This forfeiture automatically places the Phi Kappa Tau team in the championship bracket, against the defending titleholders, Delta Iota. The D. I.'s are represented by the same men who won the 1931 title, Clapp and High. Clapp recently defeated High in the final round of play to win the 1932 all campus singles championship.

The Phi Taus drew a bye in the first round of play and advanced to the finals because of the Beta forfeiture. Delta Iota won the right to enter the finals because of victories over the Psi Chi Omegas and the Theta Phis.

Volleyball competition is to be the next form of interfraternity athletics offered by the Intramural committee. Competition is scheduled to start within the next two weeks.

Beloit Holds Ripon To Scoreless Tie In Conference Tilt

MIDWEST SCORES

Beloit 0, Ripon 0.
Carleton 9, St. Olaf 0.
Wisconsin 39, Coe 0.
Illinois College 6, Knox 0.
Monmouth 13, Cornell 0.

Outclassed in every department of the game, Beloit fought valiantly with its back to the wall on six different occasions to hold Ripon to a scoreless tie Saturday. Four times Ripon was set back 15 yards for holding, and was held twice for downs inside the ten yard line. Beloit threatened only once when a quick kick gave them possession of the ball on the Ripon 30 yard line.

Ripon collected 11 first downs to Beloit's three. Cy Holmes, veteran halfback, was the most consistent ground gainer for the Redmen. This game counted in the standings of both the Big Four and Midwest conferences.

Coe Defeated

In the only other Midwest game, Monmouth squeezed out a 13 to 6 victory over Cornell college by a last minute drive. The University of Wisconsin romped over Coe, 39 to 0, using three complete teams. The Badgers scored at will after the first ten minutes and led 33 to 0 at the half. The second half was shortened by agreement and a reserve team could score but once on the Iowans.

Carleton added another win to its record by taking a non-conference game from St. Olaf, 9 to 0. Carleton (Continued on page 4)

Miss Tarr Issues Set of Rules Concerning Library

ing a picture may bring it to the loan desk and the pictures are charged by the assistant at the desk. It should also be returned to the loan desk.

Reference Department

The reference department serves as a clearing house for information. Students will find it helpful to become acquainted with reference books, especially dictionaries, encyclopedias, periodical indexes, and some of the year books. The reference librarian is available to give information about these books, and also to aid students in finding any other information they need.

Carrels

The carrels or study desks in the stack rooms are reserved for the use of faculty and upperclassmen. The reference librarian is in charge of assigning carrels. All books used at the carrels should be charged at the loan desk.

The Card Catalog

The card catalog is located at the right of the loan desk. It is a card index or key to the book resources of the library. The contents of each tray is indicated by a label on the outside, giving the first and last entry in that tray. Cards for books may be found under the author's surname, title, or subject of the book.

In order to obtain a book at the loan desk the call number which is to be found on the upper left corner of the catalog card, of the catalog card, should be copied exactly on a call slip which will be found on the tray on the catalog case. The call slip should then be presented to loan desk.

Charging System

To borrow a book, both cards which are found in the pocket at the back of the book should be signed and the pocket stamped by the assistant with date due. Books may be kept for two weeks with the privilege of one renewal.

To renew, the book or the complete call number must be brought to the assistant at the loan desk. Special permission for more than one renewal must be secured from the desk assistant.

Two cents a day are charged for overdue books, with the exception of reserve books. For reserve books, 25c for first hour lateness; 5c per hour thereafter until book is returned; 25c for failure to check out a book at 9:30 p.m.; 25c for books kept out during dinner hour.

Use of Reserve Books

Reserve books must be asked for at the loan desk by author and title.

Reserve books must be used in the library, and must be returned to the desk before the student leaves the library.

Reserve books may not be taken out during the dinner hour.

Reserve books may be drawn for overnight circulation at 9:30 p.m. on week nights; for weekend use at 4:30 p.m. on Saturdays. They are due at 8:00 a.m. the following day, on Monday. All books for overnight circulation must be checked at the loan desk before the student leaves the library.

Reserve books may be reserved for certain periods of study by signing for them at the loan desk. Such reserves will not be saved for a student for more than five minutes after the time signed for. One hour is the length of period allowed for reserving.

Rental Book Collection

Rental books are known as the "English Club Collection" and are located to the left of the loan desk. The rental charge is two cents a day for the first week, and five cents a day after the first week; with a minimum charge of five cents. To borrow a rental book the card which is found in the book pocket should be signed and given to the assistant to be stamped with current date. Rent is paid when the book is returned.

World News in Brief

The war department of Paraguay announced that Fort Arce, one of the principal strongholds, was captured yesterday afternoon by Paraguayan troops and that Bolivian soldiers were fleeing, leaving arms and ammunition and supplies behind.

Fort Boqueron was recaptured several days ago by the Paraguayans who now have, according to the Army general staff, a major offensive open along a 65 mile front, from Fort Sorpresa, near the Argentine border, westward to Fort Arce.

Barter seems to be the only way in which America can trade in Chile. According to the Chilean newspapers the United States has a good taste for wines despite prohibition laws. The newspapers put up a protest against the purchase by American interests of Chile's entire prospective vineyard crop of 15,000,000 gallons for exportation. Every brand of Chilean vintage leaped in price, but the destination of the wine is a secret. Who knows, we may sell it back to them for other commodities.

Observer Takes Notice Of High School Students

wrecked cars were engrossed in watching it instead of the road. But, such is college life, says the dear old lady. Wild, wild, wild!

Seeing as how the Observer was blamed for writing that last masterly poem, which was really taken from the pen of another, 'tis high time we did scribble a little of our own. Here it is:

A college education,
In our humble estimation,
Is quite the situation
To be praised;
For when all the lads and lasses
Go skipping off to classes,
The people of the masses
Look amazed.
The various studious men
Just run 'round and 'round again,
Loafing when they can
At Russell Sage.
But, in a poem of this kind,
It's pretty hard to find
A lot of words that rhyme,
So, good day.

found in the College library, the librarian will write to the University of Wisconsin and secure it if possible. The student pays the postage.

Use of Library Rooms

The library rooms are primarily a place for faculty and students to come to read and study. Since the loan and reserve desks are combined and immediately joining the reference room, it is absolutely necessary that quiet should be maintained at all times.

Carroll Ekes Out 6-0 Decision Over Vikings

advanced eight yards and the game ended.

The first half was an evenly matched battle. Nothing of great importance happened in the first quarter aside from Rothman's return of the kick-off for 35 yards. Carroll gained through the line, But Faber's kicks held them deep in their own territory.

The second period opened and two quick passes from Faber to Ashman put the ball on Carroll's 22 yard line. Another pass, Faber to Vogel, gained six more yards. Faber fumbled and Carroll recovered on fourth down. At this point Referee Witte escorted Pfefferle and DeSantis from the game. Carroll retained the ball in its possession until the half ended.

Punts 80 Yards

Early in the third quarter Carroll punted and a Viking blocked the kick. Walters and Faber made it first down on the 30 yard stripe of Carroll. Faber crossed right tackle for another first down. Carroll held and then punted poorly to give the ball to Lawrence on the 35 yard line of Carroll. Lawrence was assessed thirty yards for holding on two occasions, and Walters' punt over the goal gave Carroll the ball on its 20 yard line. Kennedy then punted 80 yards over the Lawrence goal; Lawrence punted, and Carroll attempted to place kick with the wind from the 35 yard line. The kick went sion of the ball as the period closed. Very wide and Lawrence took possession.

In the final period Carroll made its score and then held the Vike charges on the three yard line before the game closed. The efforts of every Vike are to be commended. Coach Percy Clapp had a team on the field that was much better than the opposition, but fate ruled to give Carroll the breaks and the victory. The line-ups follow:

Lawrence	Carroll
Vogel	Jansen
Kramer	R. T. Johnson
Nagel	R. G. Calvert
Pfefferle	C. Breen
Simonds	L. G. Mehl
McKahn	L. T. Rich
Roeder	R. E. Winchell
Ashman	Q. B. Peterson
Faber	L. H. Rohm
Gebhardt	R. H. Thiel
Walters	F. B. Rothman

Wandering Student Finds Objects Of Interest In American History Museum

Late one Sunday afternoon I tramped up to the American History museum located on the fourth floor of Main hall, unlocked a side door, and so entered the museum from the rear. I was very surprised to see standing in the semi-darkness the mystery woman of Lawrence college—referred to as Aphrodite by Dr. J. B. MacHarg, professor of American history.

Aphrodite is a well-made lady without a past. She was found on the Lawrence campus sometime ago by Dr. R. M. Bagg, of the geology department. This attractive statue now wears a now long out of date blue dress.

After examining Aphrodite, I walked to the front of the museum. As everyone knows the Indians were here before the Americans, so the Indian arrow heads, pottery, and bead work are among the first things to be seen.

Old Books

Next I found some interesting stamps and some old coins and paper money. A New Yorker of March, 1838, a book on slavery, and "Principles of Politeness" were some of the old books attracting my attention.

The display which most interested me was that of World war posters. The posters emphasized either the need of saving wheat (wheat was troublesome then, too) or the importance of buying Liberty Bonds. According to the posters the war could almost be won if everyone would buy a Liberty bond.

War Propaganda

I believe that from reading these posters I caught the atmosphere of the days of the World war . . . the feeling that nothing mattered but winning the war, and Liberty bonds and wheat would contribute to the victory.

Other things of interest were the old pieces of furniture, relics, and the arms used in the Civil war.

Many of the things in the museum have been contributed by Appleton residents, some by students, and some by alumni. The museum is the result of the work of Dr. MacHarg, who is now on leave of absence. The museum is open every Friday from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and may be examined at almost any other time by getting special permission from Emogene Perschbacher, '33.

Campus Club Will Hold Hallowe'en Party Friday

Campus club will hold a Hallowe'en party to be arranged by the program committee at the new Alexander gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Theodore Cloak will give a play, and the pool will be open for all those who wish to swim. Other entertainment will be planned by Miss Ruth McGurk, and refreshments will be served.

still leads the Midwest and will undoubtedly retain its title in spite of the 53 to 0 trimming they received two weeks ago at West Point. Knox dropped another non-conference tilt to Illinois college.

Next week's Midwest conference schedule finds Lawrence battling their traditional enemy, Ripon. Knox meets Beloit at Galesburg, and Coe invades Mt. Vernon to play Cornell. Carleton engages in an outside game with the University of South Dakota, while Monmouth plays Augustana in a "Little 19" tilt.
